

618 St Nicholas Ave
August 7, 1964
New York 30 N.Y.

Dear Mr & Mrs Goodman,

To your son Andrew Goodman and James Chaney, and Michael Schwerner.

How well you must have

taught him in his youth

Of courage, Love of man

and truth,

I should be proud If just

to touch your hand,

To have raised a son so fine

a man.

How can I dare to strive to know your grief.

When my son is alive

And yours is gone.

So when I think of them

you see,

I weep for you, for him

his murderers and me.

Joy Washington

618 ST Nicholas Ave

August 7, 1964

New York 30 N. Y.

Dear Mr + Mrs Goodman,

To your son Andrew Goodman
+ James Chaney, and Michael Schwerner,

How well you must have
taught him in his youth
Of courage, love of man
and truth,

I should be proud if just
to touch your hand,

To have raised a son so fine
a man.

How can I dare to strive
to know your grief,

When my son is alive,

and yours is gone.

So when I think of them
you see,

I weep for you, for him
his murderers and me.

Joy Washington